When bad men combine, the good must associate; else they will fall one by one, an unloosed sacrifice in a contemptible struggle.

Educational Progress.

In 1905 Mr. Alfred Shuster, of London, came to America at the head of a commission to investigate educational conditions in this country. But not being satisfied with partial results, says a London correspondent, Mr. Shuster is following up the movement by putting five hundred teachers from every quarter of the kingdom in the way of visiting America and Canada and studying the educational methods and appliances.

The first object has been to obtain a representative body of teachers of all grades who could take advantage of this opportunity for expert study. This has been done after conferences with the educational authorities in Scotland, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. The results have virtually been success and arrangements have been made for disseminating knowledge a week, from November to March or April, on leave of absence with full pay.

The teachers will make the journey in small parties—five sailing by each steamer from November 1st. Their expenses in America will be paid either by themselves or by their friends. Several members of Parliament in Wales and elsewhere have agreed to supply the money for candidates from their districts, and special arrangements have been made in other instances.

Dr. Murray Fisher will head the expedition, and when asked by the correspondent what, in his judgment, would be the chief benefit of this educational privilege, replied that teaching was one of the most narrowing occupations, whatever might be the grade or quality of the work. No other class of workers needed more urgently the broadening effects of travel and observation. These English teachers, by going to America and Canada and studying the methods employed in the schools, would get out of their own cuts, obtain a fresh point of view, and assure greatly reinvigorated for the resumption of their own work.

Captain Thomas Ellett.

An obituary in yesterday's Times-Dispatch to the late Dr. Melver, of North Carolina, was in course of preparation, a prominent man in our own city was in the throes of death, and later in the day his gentle spirit returned to the God who gave it.

Mr. Murphy has hunted up his old bosom, wiped it off with a damp cloth and wreathed it, a bit tentatively, about his features.

VIRGINIA COMMENT.

Well Worth the Effort.

Even at the risk of being called掉进水里 (falling into water), the paper is making a determined effort to complete the question of providing for a display of the county resources at Jamestown next year.

Sowing and Reaping.

It is not a very profitable occupation when you make money, but it is well worth the trouble.

At the recent Zion City election, Bowie did not offer himself as a candidate for the leadership, thus making it unanimous.

DULL TIMES IN DAVIEVILLE.

Since the theatre was destroyed by fire nearly a year ago, Davieville has had little else to do than to look up the serious side of life.

Two Sides to It.

If the government closed the railway, one road would be a general stoppage of some kind.

DOWN IN CUBA.

This asylum report business seems to be responsible for a good deal of crazy talk.

The insurgents, meanwhile, continue to insure.

Cuba has a bad case of ingrowing peace.

POINTS FROM PARAGRAPHERS.

COLONEL WATKINS IS STILL HUNTING ON.

Colonel Watkins is still hunting on.

A New York publishing house is putting up a book entitled "What's Wrong?" It's a safe bet that John Wesley claims it is not.

Here of late the children seem to put the dependence of all their sins upon the goodness of others.
